

Notice on termination of publishing agreement

I am contacting you concerning the termination of a publishing agreement conducted on 20 February 2019 for the book "Peruuta Diabetes 2019" (the "Publishing Agreement") published by Fitra Oy due to unpaid royalties.

I (the "Author") have transferred to the publisher (Fitra Oy) the right to publish the work in print publication and as an electronic publication. Fitra Oy merged with Trainer4you Oy, which was acquired by Erimover Oy Ab.

The following royalties have been agreed upon in the Publishing Agreement:

- 1) An advance payment of EUR 1,500 upon completion of the script for the work; and
- 2.1) 20% royalties on the VAT-free sales of the work; or
- 2.2) in the case of more than 2,000 copies, a royalty of 21% of the VAT-free price of the work; and
- 3) 18% royalties for electronic publication; and
- 4) 15% royalties of the paperback version of the work.

According to the Publishing Agreement, the fee must be paid by the end of May each year.

The publisher has not paid the royalties specified in the Publishing Agreement. I have on several occasions, over many months, tried to contact the publisher regarding the unpaid royalties and have made demands for their payment. Despite this, my royalties remain unpaid.

According to section 8 of the Publishing Agreement, the agreement can be terminated if any of the Parties is found to be in Material Breach of the agreement.

With this notice, the Publishing Agreement is terminated with immediate effect.

With the termination of the Publishing Agreement, you are to promptly, no later than by the end of this year, remove the book in question from all the platforms you have published it to.

Respectfully,

Jakob Valdma
